FIFTH DAY MARKS NO ADVANTAGE OF EITHER OF CONTESTANTS FOR SUPREMACY THE IN CITY OF MEXICO

ALL DAY THE REBEL BATTERIES OF HEAVY GUNS THREW A FIERCE FIRE OF SHRAPNEL AROUND THE PALACE

Rebel Commander is Prepared For The Threatened Overwhelming Movement Promised by Madero and The Federal Bombardment Made Little Effect on The Rebel Defenses--Diaz is Reported to Have Demanded The Surrender of The National Palace.

MEXICO CITY, FEB. 13.—Without decisive advantage to either the government or the rebel forces the fifth day of the fighting in the capital ended at nightfall.

It was another day of terror for hundreds of thousands of non-combatants. These included large numbers of foreigners who could find no part of the city a spot free from danger.

Shells raked the principal streets of the capital and tore their way into private homes and business buildings. As well as through the public structures for which they were intended.

Bullets of the machine guns and rifles penetrated all corners, finding lodgement in buildings even in the remote sctions, unofficially obut tacitly designated yesterday as the neutral zone.

The Cuban and the Belgian legations were render untenable. The occupants sought refuge elsewhere.

Th French consulate suffered a similiar fate to that of the American consulate several days ago, the consul transferring his office to the French legation.

Will Fight to a Finish.

Both government and rebels insist they will fight to a finish. Because of this declaration the Cuban minister has asked his government for authorization to charter trains to remove Cubans to Vera Cruz. There he proposes to place them aboard a ship flying the Spanish flag, if one is in port, otherwise on an American warship due tomorrow. Other diplomats may do likewise.

President Madero decided tonight he could reduce Diaz speedily, but hesitatted to do so because of humanitarian motives.

The government telegraph wire still is silent on the news throughout the republic but there has reached here through various sources of information which appears credible news to the effect that the Diaz movement has found considerable favor in many sections and that the City of Puebla has openly proclaimed him provisional president. The diplomatis representatives said tonight they had no intention of making further representations to the Mexican government looking to a settlement. Such action they regarded as futile.

There is no reason to believe that tomorrow will not see a repetition of to day's operations, except in their possible termination.

Fails to Fulfill Promise.

Madero's promise that the subjugation of Diaz would be swift and terrible today, because the government had planned to surround him completely and then pound his positions with their heaviest guns, was in no way fulfilled. Only at times was the bombardment of today as heavy as the average of yesterday and that by the rebel guns.

The federal fire generally was slow although since it came from various directions, it was persistent. On the whole the rebel commanders' orders to his men were to conserve their fire, and little ammunition was wasted.

No opportunity was lost, however, to throw shells at the troublesome batteries and his machine guns effectually prevented the approach of the federals. His greatest energies were displayed in the line of fire towards the palace, where his big guns scarred the walls and doors of that ancient structure and cleared the big square in front of federal reserves.

The battle lasted all day, broken only at brief intervals for the most part by federal orders to cease firing when their officers were changing positions.

One rebel reverse turned a new position for them, back to the federals.

The rebels had wrested from the federals the police barracks. The federals today from advantageous buildings swept this with machine guns, pressing the action until every one of the occupants had been killed. So little did the rebels think of this position that they made no effort to hold it.

While General Huerta had been busy during the night preparing for the promised blow, Diaz also had worked effectively. He sent through the government lines various small detachments of sharpshooters and organized at least one stand of artillery. These detachments which acted independently appear to have had orders to harrass wherever possible and pick off the federal gunners.

One of them fell into an engagement with a body of rurales near Hamburgo street. There rebels had concealed themselves on the tops of residences. The engagement between them and the rurales was sharp and brief without great advantage to either side. The scene of the operations shifted without any great interference from the government forces.

Diaz Demands Surrender.

MEXICO CITY, FEB. 13.—At five o'clock this evening it was reported that General Diaz had demanded the surrender of the national palace. All throughout the day the rebel batteries of heavy guns were throwing a fierce fire of sharpnel around the palace. Many of these dropped into the Zocalo, which fronts the building and federal soldiers were compelled to move to cover.

Before dark the fire on both sides was intermittent but apparently less vigorous from the federals. The government troops were receiving ammunition in small consignments and it was said that they were running short.

The nfth day of the battle began at 8 o'clock, a battery of federal artillery opening fire on the arsenal but although the bombardment was kept up without cessation for an hour or more, it had no appreciable effect on the rebel defenses.

Diaz is Prepared.

That Diaz had prepared for the threatened overwhelming movement by the government, which Madero promised would be carried through today was shown by the fact that he had stationed sharp-shooters on the roofs of adjoining buildings had despatched a force outside his lines to the west of the city, and had placed his heaviest guns in positions commanding all the approaches to his stronghold.

General Huerta, commanding the federals had promised to rush the fortifications of the rebels, but he elected instead to employ his artillery from the various points of vantage. Only once during the early part of the day did the infantry come into action.

Rebels Extending Zone.

During the heavy shelling of the palace. Diaz apparently moved some of his forces to the southeast of the city, and shortly after 12 o'clock the palace was made the target of both shells and rifle fire from that district. Coincidentally, the rebels succeeded in extending their zone of activity in other directions.

The rebel fire towards the palace was intended not only to bring about its surrender, but had for its purpose also the clearing of the intervening high buildings of machine guns and riflemen and of silencing the federal battery operating in San Juan Letran street, at a point midway between the arsenal and the palace.

This shelling wrought havoc among the buildings in this section of the city.

Americans Have Narrow Esacpe.

The American club was riddled. The interior of this building on the second and third floors was completely wrecked. Of forty Americans within it at the time several had an almost miraculos escape from death.

In all seven shells tore through the walls. The first two crashed through the reading room across the greater length of the front on the second story. The others entered above the second story on the sides, which are not protected by buildings. In addition to the shell fire the interior as well as the exterior of the American club was perforated in scores of places by bullets from rifles and machine guns.

The shells which entered the reading room tore their way through the stone window casings, demolished a heavy leather chair and exploded with terrific force. Sharpnel was hurled in all directions, cutting the furniture to ribbons, ripping the floors and walls and puncturing in a score of places the portraits which hang about the room. The portrait most seriously damaged was that of President Madero. President McKinley's face is now set in a circle of holes while the portrait of President Taft, hanging next escaped with a single mark.

President-elect Wilson's features were riddled, while at the other end of the line of portraits balls found lodgment in plenty in the picture of another Democrat, Jefferson.

To the rear of this room is a large one used for billiards and pool. There many Americans were gathered as the manager had forbidden the members to assemble in the front room when a second series of shells crashed through the wall. These tore away through the story above.

Some of these shells entered almost on a line with the floor. From the fire which followed the greatest damage resulted. All but one shell exploded. This remains buried in the third wall which it encountered. Pieces of shell were hurled through the floor above the billiard room among the Americans there. Four sleeping rooms on the fourth floor were wrecked. From one the entire wall was torn away.

LEWIS' TOTAL VOTE TAKES ANOTHER DROP

Ballot Shows Strength to be Nineteen Short of Necessary Number

ONLY ONE BALLOT TAKEN

Legislature Adjourns Until Next Tuesday After the Taking of One Ballot

OTHER SPRINGFIELD DOINGS

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. FEB. 13.—With the taking of one ballot each on the long and short term senatorships the illinois legislature adjourned to day until next Tuesday, when the balloting will be resumed in joint session.

On the long term ballot to day Col. James Hamilton Lewis saw his total vote drop from 89 yesterday to 83 to day, which is 14 votes short of the full Democratic tregth in the two houses and 19 short of the number necessary to an election.

Senate pairs, absentees and house members not voting explains in a degree the srinkage in Col. Lewis' vote.

Hon. L. Y. Sherman, the Republican nominee, finished the first week of the senatorial deadlock with a total of 75 votes on the second joint ballot. The absence of three Republican senators and one representative was supplanted in the Sherman vote by the ballots of four Progressives—Jones, R. E. Sherman, Taylor and Jayne. Senator Jones, Sherman and Taylor voted the Republican nominee on the first joint ballot.

Ballot for Long Term

A summary of the second joint ballot on the long term senatorship shows the following:

Candidate	House	Senate	Total
Sherman, R ...	52	23	75
Lewis, D	62	21	83
Funk, P	21	1	22
Berlyn, S	4	0	4
Absent	7	0	4
Not Voting	6	0	6
Paired	0	6	6
Totals	152	51	203

Jayne Explains Vote.

Representative J. H. Jayne, of Monmouth, Progressive, explained his vote for Sherman, saying:

"I come from the thirty-second district, and that ought to be enough of an explanation fo the members here and also the people of my district."

The thirty second is Judge Sherman's old district. The Republicans members applauded Jayne's announcement.

When the short term ballot was taken later in the joint session two Republican senators and one Republican house member exchanged compliments with the progressives by casting their votes for Funk. They were Senator Olson and Johnson and Representative Lovejoy.

Sentiment Changing

This exchange of votes between Republicans and Progressives could not have been brought about at the opening of the session. It is indicative of the changed sentiment that seems to be taking hold of the members of the two parties in the legislature.

The Progressives have let it be known for two days that Sherman's candidacy will be acceptable to them if Funk's candidacy will be acceptable to the Republicans. It is reported that practically the entire Republican membership of the house approves a Republican-Progressive combination, and that not more than half dozen Republican senators are opposed to it.

Ballot For Short Term.

The second joint ballot on the short term brought out a number of citizens to be honored with complimentary votes. Eight different persons received one vote each. Among this number was Former Congressman W. B. McKinley of Chmapaign, and Former Congressman W. A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis, J. E. Harris voted for Rodenberg and Charles Curren voted for McKinley. The short term ballot resulted as follows:

Boeschenstein	41
Sherman	37
Funk	124
McDonald	4
Magil	4
Alschuler	9
Carmak	3
Hopkins	2
Bolling	2
Caldwell	1
Former Congressman McKinley	1
Lecrone	2
Comiskey	1
Hubbler	1
Rosenbaum	1
Rodenberg	1
Recker	1
Lorimer	1

GIVES MORE DETAILS OF ANARCTIC TRAGEDY

COMMANDER EVANS SENDS FURTHER PARTICULARS OF EXPEDITION

Party Reached the Pole January 17th—Petty Officer Evans Falls and Suffers Concussion of the Brain From Which He Later Dies—Illness of Capt. Oates Further Delayed Their Progress.

LONDON, FEB. 13.—Commander E. R. G. Evans, sends further particulars in a despatch from Christchurch, N. Z., of the ill-fated British antarctic expedition. The party under Captain Scott, after leaving Commander Evans, January 4th, 1912, marched an average of twelve miles daily and reached the pole on January 17th. Captain Scott's observations by the odolite on January 18th, fixed the pole within half a mile of Amundsen's observations.

The Scott party had followed Amundsen's track and found his camp within three miles of the pole.

Several photographs of Scott and his comrades at the pole were obtained. From the time of reaching the pole, Petty Officer Evans condition gave great anxiety but good progress was made on the return journey ove rthe great plateau in medium weather. Before descending the Beardmore glacier, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers collected a number of fossils on Buckley Island.

The descent of Beardmore glacier was accomplished in thick weather and deep snow greatly delayed the march. Petty Officer Evans fell on the rough ice and sustained concussion of the brain. His condition caused a further delay and the surplus food was consumed.

On Feb. 17th, Evans collapsed and was placed on a sledge. He died a few hours afterwards.

The bad ice surface and illness of Captain Oates still further hampered the progress and weakened the energies of the party. Some times they made only three miles in a day. Then came blizzards which completed the disaster. The searching party under Dr. Atkinson found their tent on November 10th, half covered by the snow. A cross with a brief record was placed on top of this signed by all the members of the searching party.

Dr. Atkinson is authority for saying that none of the symptoms of scurvy were present on the bodies.

The searching party employed seven mules, which hauled heavier weights and proved generally more efficient than ponies.

From the Daily Mail.

A despatch to the Daily Mail from Christchurch says that full details of Scott's return journey will reveal a still more glorious page of history when they are published, than the brief official narrative.

"It is stated," says the Daily Mail, "that Petty Officer Evans was assisted by his comrades from the pole until his death and that every ounce of food was exhaustedlong before death came to Scott's party. Only a small quantity of tea was found with the bodies which were discovered in the following positions:

"Scott, sitting with his back to the tent pole. Between his head and the tent pole he had placed his diary as a support to his head. Dr. Wilson and Lieutenant Bowers were lying in their sleeping bags.

"Possibly an expedition will be sent for the bodies next summer. A memorial cross to Scott, Wilson and Bowers was erected on Obresvation Hill. It was constructed of jarrah wood, and will last for ages.

"Members of the expedition indicate the possibility that disappointment at Amundsen forestalling them took the 'stiffening' out of Scott's party for the return journey.

"While descending Beadmore Glacier the ice was found to be very rough and many obstructions ten to twelve feet high had to be climbed which resulted in the explorers being badly bruised or strained. Commander Evans denies that the explorers died of scurvy. He says death was due to exposure and weakness.

"The members of Lieut. Campbell's northern party are in magnificent health, considering the terrible privitations they underwent in a igloo where they led a primative existence for six and one-half months. They had a regular physical drill. Their only literature was David Copperfield of which one chapter was read aloud daily.

The steamer Aorambi is still out of range of wireless and therefore it is probable that Mrs. Scott, widor of the explorer, who is a passenger has not yet been informed of her husband's death."

Commander Evans, in a despatch to the Chronicle says the expedition will be given to the public in due course of time.

California Bank is Richer by $30,000 Because Safe Falls on Its Face After Nitro-glycerin Charge.

Vacaville, Calif., Feb. 13.—The dead weight of a coin safe, toppled on its face by nitro-glycerin, saved $30,000 in gold today for the Bank of Vacaville. Automobile bandits cut the telephone and telegraph wires today, blew open the bank vault and set their final charge to crack the coin safe. The safe fell andface down on the steel floor of the vault and the robbers failed to move it before citizens, aroused by the explosion, chased them off,

MEDIATION PLAN URGED UPON TAFT

Pan-American Commission Suggested for Mediation in Mexico

TO PROBE THE SITUATION

Commision Would Make Investigations and Seek to Readjust Affairs in Mexico

BARRETT MAKES PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, FEB. 13.—Mediation in Mexico, rather than intervention, by the appointment of a Pan-American commission was urged to day upon President Taft, Senator Cullom of the foreign relations committee and Representative Flood of the foreign affairs committee by John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union. The commission which it is suggested, should seek to bring about a readjustment of Mexican affairs, would be composed of a statesman from the United States, an eminent Latin-American diplomat, now in Washington, and influential Mexican. Mr. Barrett suggested such men as Senator Root or William Jennings Bryan, Senor Calderon, minister from Boliva or Dr. Pena, minister from Uruguay and Senor de la Barra of Mexico, former Ambassador to the United States. The mediation proposal was made after conferences with members of the senate and house following renewed assurance from the state department that there was no present intention of departing from the established policy of dealing with the situaton in Mexco. In his letter outlining the plan Mr. Barrett says that it envolves mediation rather than intervention, international American co-operation rather than individual United States action and a practical application of the Pan-American rather than of the Monroe Doctrine.

To Investigate Situation.

The commission he suggests should investigate the situation in Mexico on the ground, and "make recommendations to Mexico which shall readjust the situation of permanent peace and satbility."

Through Ambassado Wilson in Mexico City, the plan would be represented to the Mexican government and to the revolutionary leaders who would be urged to cease hostilities "pending the action and report of the commission and it should be made known to the Mexican government and people that they would be be expected with this moral support and interest of all America to carry out the conclusion of such international commission."

"If Latin-American and Mexico fail, to act on this suggestion" says Mr. Barrett, "they still wil be obliged to admit that the United States has first tried to proceed on the fairest lines possible and wih every effort to convince Latin-America and Mexico of its good faith and intentions."

Would Bring Peace

"Above all things," he adds, "it will bring for the moment immediate peace to Mexico, the actual protection of life and property of foreign which should in due time develop into permanent peace, stability and prosperity for the Mexican government and people, without striking a blow at Mexico's independence and with evidence to all America that the United States seeks no territorial additions."

Mr. Barrett expresses the opinion that this government would find the Latin-American governments in sympathy with this plan that the selection of either Mr. Bryan or Senator Root would be satisfactory in Mexico and other Latin-American countries as well as in the United States and that the other possible members whom he named, likewise would be agreeable to all concerned. Except to prosecute a few inquiries at some of the coast cities with a view to learning what water transportation could be secured from private ship owners in case it should become necessary to transport more than the first brigade of the regular army to Mexican waters the military agency of the government rested to day satisfied with the preparations already made to meet emergency.

Protecting Foreigners

For the present the entire efforts of the administration are being concentrated upon the protection of foreign life and property in the Mexican capital without active forcible intervention, which the president is determined to avoid until the last extremity. Ambassador Wilson is acting under instructions of that character and it was in pursuance of that plan that he was given credit of $10,000 to defray expenses of removing sheltering and feeding helpless Americans and presumably other distressed foreigners from the scene of the hostilities.

Admiral Fletcher who is in command of the naval force now bound for Vera Cruz and Admiral Usher who will appear at Tampico, within the next 24 hours, one his flagship Virginia, will act under similiar instructions to those which govern with Ambassador Wilson.

No Criticism Made.

Many diplomats called at the state department to day and made inquiries concerning conditions in Mexico City. In no case was there the slightest evidence of a disposition to criticise the admnistration for failing to adopt an agressve attitude toward Mexico.

Secretary Knox's view is while some American lives may be lost through the wild and reckless firing of the battling forces now in the City of Mexico, it is certain that a great many more lives would be lost as an incident to an assault upon the city by an American attacking column.

Discussing the Mexican situaiton in the house to day, Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, said it would be deplorable, "if in order to maintain the honor and dignity of the United States we should be oblidged to send troops into Mexico, but if even our well intentioned diplomatic nogotiations are to be trifled with, then, of course, the matter will take a different aspect."

Citizens of the United States, he declared, were entitled to protection while traveling in foreign countries," and it would be making a laughing stock of government, if we failed to afford for the representatives we send abroad the assurance of our national support."

Approximately three hundred thousand American citizens are either temporarily or permanently residing in Mexico, according to figures based upon estimated made by the state department.

CASH REGISTER MEN ARE FOUND GUILTY

JURY'S VERDICT IS GUILTY AS CHARGED ON ALL THREE COUNTS

John H. Patterson and 28 Other Officials of the National Cash Register Co. Are Found Guilty and Are Subject to Fine of $15,000 and Three Years in Jail Each.

CINCINNATI, O., FEB. 13.—"Guilty as charged in all three counts of the indictment," was the verdict rendered here at 11:50 tonight by the jury trying the case of John H. Patterson and the twenty-eight other officials or former officials or former officials of the National Cash Register company, who were charged by the government with violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The defendants were:

John H. Patterson, Dayton, O.; president; Edward A. Deeds, Dayton, vice-president; George E. Edgeter, Dayton, secretary; Wm. F. Bippus, treasurer; William Mussey, Dayton, O.; William Pflum, Dayton, O.; Alfred A. Thomas, Dayton; Robert Patterson, director; Thomas J. Watson, sales manager; Joseph Rogers, assistant sales manager; Alexandar C. Harn, salesman; Frederick S. High, district manager, Boston; Pliny Eves, district manager, San Francisco; Arthur A. Wentz, Columbus, O.; George E. Morgan, Dayton; Charles T. Falmsley, Chicago; Charles A. Snyder, Elizabeth, N. J.; Walter Cool, Denver; Meyer N. Jacobs, Pittsburgh; Mont L. Lasley, Detroit; Earl B. Wilson, Los Angeles; Johnathan B. Hayward, patent attorney, New York; Alexander Sinclair, New York; John J. Range, Washington; M. G. Keith, New York; William Cummins, Brooklyn, ill not at trial; J. O. Laird, Toronto; W. C. Howe, San Francisco; E. H. Epperson, Minneapolis; Edgar Parks, dismissed, New York.

Judge Adjourns Court.

After thanking the members of the jury and dismissing them, Judge Howard Hollister adjourned court until tomorrow. He also notified the attorneys for the defense that any action that they desired to take that was just, would be allowed to come before the court at the proper time.

The jury deliberated on the case for almost ten hours, and there was but a scattered few of the defendants and spectators in the court room when Foreman Edward C. Morrow announced the verdict.

President Patterson when asked for a statement said:

"In view of the civil litigation against the National company, I desire not to make a statement at this time."

The indictments were returned Feb. 22, 1912.

The present trial began Nov. 19 and occupied about fifty actual trial days.

Trial Expense $750,000.

The total expense to the Cash Register company, including loss of time, is estimated at little less than half a million dollars. President Patterson and each of the defendants, with one exception, has been in court each day. The government expense has been estimated at about half as much as that of the company.

The indictments named thirty men, but Edgar Parks was dismissed recently by Judge Hollister upon the representation that he was in no way connected with the company in the last three years, the time named in the indictments.

Each of three counts carries with it a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and a sentence in a common jail of not more than twelve months, thus bringin the maximum sentence for each man up to $15,000 fine and 36 months in jail.

That the cases will be appealed was indicated when attorneys for the defense attempted to make a motion previous to the dismissal of the jury. Judge Hollister assured them that any motions could be made later. District Attorney McPherson, who was not in the court room when the verdict was rendered, was notified by telephone, and stated that he was elated and that it was a great victory for the government. No statements were issued by the attorneys for the defense other than that all legal methods would be used in an effort to set aside the verdict and in the last resort to appeal the case.

Adjourned at 6:15 p. m. until 11a. m. Friday.

WASHINGTON, FEB. 13.—The general problem of Democratic appropriations was taken up tonight in a conference of Democratic advocates of economy who met to discuss the possibilities for cutting down the expenditures of the government as outlined in the various appropriation bills.

The $146,000,000 for the navy appropriation was the chief subject. The party leaders are greatly disturbed in the split in the house over the question of appropriations. The operation bills, according to Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the appropriations committee, will place the country's expenditures at a point higher than has yet been reached and economy advocates declare that the appropriations of this congress will be at least $100,000,000 over the billion mark.

Take No Action.

At tonight's conference they talked for nearly three hours and adjourned without taking any action, with the understanding that Representative Saunders of Virginia, who presided, was to endeavor to convert the Democrats of the naval affairs committee to an economy program, although little hope for a reduction in the bill was advanced.

Several radical suggestions were advanced by speakers in the conference. One was that the rivers and harbors bill, already passed by the house, be killed by a filibuster on its return in conference and that the public buildings bill, the other measure in which most members of the house are interested, be filibustered to death when it appears on the floor. Several members suggested that all of the appropriation be allowed to go over until the extra session when the committees, warned by the present agitation, could be forced to prune the amounts appropriated. The proposition that the Democrats at the end of their first congress in sixteen years allow the bills to fail, was not greeted with enthusiasm, however. The conference will meet again next Tuesday night.

Rivers and Harbors Bill.

After adding numerous amendments, the senate committee on commerce today concluded its consideration of the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, and that measure will be reported to the senate tomorrow by Senator Nelson, chairman of the committee. As it will be presented to the senate the bill will carry an aggregate of $46,572,958, which is an increase of $5,700,000 over the amount carried by the bill as it passed the house, and about $20,000,000 more than the last year's bill. No increase was made in the house appropriation of $6,000,000 for the improvement of the lower Mississippi, but Senator Bur-

TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR COMPLETING INTERURBAN LINE

Residents Along Rightofway of Springfield-Jacksonville Interurban Will Hold Meeting at Court House.

Since the rights of the Jacksonville-Springfield Electric company for a right of way for an interurban between this city and the capital, have lapsed farmers residing alond the route have been working to interest a responsible company to complete the line and a meeting will be held at the Court House at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, February 25 for the purpose of discussing the matter. All residents along the route and any other persons interested are expected to attend the meeting.

A few years ago the Jacksonville-Springfield Electric company, secured a right of way between this city and the capital and for a time the work progressed satisfactorily. The larger part of the grading alond the route was done and the road was ready for track when work ceased, itis said, for lack of funds. In the original contract, January 1, 1912 was set as the time limit but before that date an extension of one year was asked and granted. Work on the road has been at a standstill for about two years and as the company has not asked for a further extension of time, John W. Boston and other men interested have taken steps to interest other interurban companies in completeing the line. The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing plans for turning over the right of way to a responsible company and it is understood that some St. Louis men will be here to attend the session.

GOV. DUNNE WILL MAKE MANY CHANGES IN OFFICE HOLDERS

Executive Said to Be Getting List of Appointments Ready for Announcement March First—Numerous Republicans Have Filed Resignations.

By the first of March, Governor Dunne will be ready to announce a long list of appointments in the state departments. He says that a number of resignations have been sent to him by republican incumbents and in each case he has asked for the incumbent to remain until further notice.

The places therefore are available at any time the executive decides to fill them.

List Not Announced.

The governor will not announce the list of resignations now. He does not wish to embarrass the incumbents, but also he does not wish to advertise the places that are to be filled immediately and thus bring on himself an avalanche of applications.

So far as is known, no employes under civil service has been disturbed by the governor and he has told a number of applicants for positions under the merit system that he would not fill them. The applicants have not been discouraged, however, and some of the better paying places are being sought with great eagerness.

WOULD PUT END TO QUADRENNIAL HARVEST OF WASHINGTON HOTELS

Resolution Would Prohibit Raising of Rates During Inauguration Week by Restaurants and Hotels.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The military feature of the inaugural parade practically has been completed, according to the announcement made today by Major General Leonard Wood, grand marshal. Present figures indicate that there will be nearly 25,000 soldiers and sailors from the regular and state military services in line.

Governors of at least twenty states are expected to be in the line of march.

The quadrennial harvest of Washington hotels and restaurants secured by rates charged to inauguration visitors was threatened today by a joint resolution introduced in the house by Representative Johnson of Kentucky, chairman of the house District of Columbia committee. The resolution recites that citizens desirous of attending the ceremonies "have generally complained that they have been required to enter into unreasonable contracts at exorbitant prices." As a remedy the resolution would provide that the rates to be charged by "hotels, lodging houses, boarding houses, cafes, restaurants and similar places of entertainment" shall be the regular rates charged during the year prior to Feb. 25, 1913. A penalty of a $100 fine for violation is fixed by the resolution and the defendant is made responsible for the maintenance of the complainant in Washington during the litigation, if the complainant should prove his case.

In order to make the constitutional amendment effective the resolution must be concurred in by the legislatures of three fourths of all the states in the union. In other words it will require the approval of 36 states to become effective. Only 31 state legislatures, it was represented on the floor of the house this morning, will meet this year. It is of this number that Illinois makes the seventh to adopt the amendment.

The vote in the house on concurrence in the resolution was practically unanimous. Rrepresentative Browne cast the only nay vote while 146 members voted aye.

House Officers Chosen

The elective officers of the house who were not selected when the speaker and clerk were chosen, were named to day by a vote of 91 to 53.

The same forces, democrat and republican, which combined for the election of Speaker McKinley joined in the election of the additional house officers, the list of which was contained in a resolution offered by Representative Tice.

"HARD COAL TRUST" FEDERAL SUIT BEGINS

GOVERNMENT CHARGES VIOLATION OF SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW

Civil Suit Against Delaware, Lackawanna and Western R. R. Also Charges Violation of the Commodities Clause of the Inter-State Commerce Act.

TRENTON, FEB. 13.—Further prosecution of the "hard coal trust" was begun here today by the federal government in a civil suit against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad company and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal compang charging violations of both the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the inter-state commerce act. It is understood that this move may be followed by one or more similar suits against other anthracite-carrying railroads and their allied coal companies. The government's petition in equity alleges that the coal carrying roads and their affiliated coal companies, including the defendants make and control of the f.o.b prices of anthracite at the terminals of New York the chief distributing center which regulates the prices in other markets.

Arrangements and contracts between the two defendant corporations which have practically common stockholders, are declared to be simply devices to avoid the prohibitions of inter-state commerce act and are said to have resulted in giving the coal company a monopoly of the eight or nine millions tons of coal annually produced along the lines of the Lackawanna railroad. The United States district court is asked to enjoin the railroad from transporting coal mined or bought by it and from delivering such coal to the coal company under existing agreements which the court is petitioned to adjudge as constituting a combination in restraint of trade.

Nine anthracite-carrying roads and the great coal companies united or affiliated with them, the government declares, "have long engrossed the output of the collieries" and that each road directly or through one or more coal companies has contrived to gain control over the output of most of the mines served by it and the sale of the same."

Further Prosecutions Expected.

Washington, Feb. 13.—By the "hard coal" suit instituted today, the government has gone more deeply into the anthracite situation than ever before, according to officials. As the result of an investigation by James C. McReynolds, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of the case, action against other alleged combinations of railroads and coal companies is expected.

The reason the government recently requested and secured the dismissal of the suit under the commodities clause against the Lehigh Valley railroad at Philadelphia was to permit, it is understood a consideration of the question of proceeding against the company under both the commodities clause and the anti-trust act.

In its recent decision in the general "hard coal trust" suit the supreme court threw out without prejudice the charges against several alleged combinations of coal-carrying roads and coal companies.

DEMOCRATS DISCUSS ECONOMY PROGRAM

ton's provision regarding the examination of the upper part of the river was adopted with modifications. This amendment directs the Mississippi river commission to make an examination of the streams between Cape Girardeau, Mo., to Rock Island, Ill., with a view to such improvements as will promote navigation, develope water power, protect property adjacent to the river from damage by flood. One hundred thousand dollars is provided for this work.

Elections For Postmasters.

Primary elections for the selection of fourth class postmasters are provided for in an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill which the senate committee on postoffices today added to that measure. The consideration of the bill was completed by the committee but no account of the necessity of the gathering information relating to some of the changes the bill was withheld. The bill regarding fourth class postmasters was adopted as a result of a suggestion by Senator Bristow of Kansas, although his original provision was much modified. As agreed upon by the committee, it will apply only to fourth class offices and it will be optional with the postoffice department as to whether the system shall be put into execution.

In that event it authorizes the holding of primary elections and when such elections are held it is made obligatory on the department to appoint the person receiving the highest number of votes among the patrons of any given postoffice.

The committee also passed favorably upon an amendment requiring the re-weighing of the mails next September in order to arrive at a basis for compensation to the railroads for carrying the business of the parcels post. Another amendment repeals and much criticises the blue-tag law which gives the postmaster general discretion in delaying second class mail matter.

FORMER MORGAN COUNTY GIRL WEDS IN TACOMA

Miss Charlotte Levings Becomes Bride of George Arnold—Bride is Cousin of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Osborne.

The Tacoma, Wash., Ledger, in a recent issue gives an account of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Levings of Tacoma to George A. Arnold, a well known dry goods merchant and banker at Vacaville, Cal. The bride is a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Osborne of this city, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Levings formerly resided in this county. Mr. Levings was a short hand reporter and made the first short hand record ever taken in the Morgan county circuit court. In addition to the mention of the wedding the Ledger has double column partraits of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold.

"The marriage of Miss Charlotte Levings to George A. Arnold of Vacaville, Cal., took place very quietly Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of old friends of the bride, Judge and Mrs. John A. Shackelford. The ceremony was performed in the presence of members of the family only. The bride was charmingly costumed in a traveling suit of brown whipcord with which she wore a brown velvet hat. She carried a white marabout muff on which was caught a shower of pink Cecil Brunner roses. As her only ornament the bride wore the groom's gift, a brooch of diamonds and pearls. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Arnold motored to Seattle. They departed later for California and will make their home in Vacaville. Mr. Arnold is a Mason and a member of the Mystic Shrine. Miss Levings has lived in Tacoma for several years. She is the daughter of the late Margaret B. Levings, and sister of Mrs. Edward Harrigan, of this city, Mrs. T. J. Brown of Topeka, Kan., Miss Nellie Levings of Los Angeles, L. L. Levings of Portland, Ore., and W. H. Levings of San Francisco. Tacoma friends were much interested in her marriage and many pretty little bridal attentions had been showered upon her since the announcement of her engagement."

"STOMACH MISERY ALL GONE"

"My! How I Did Suffer But Now I'm Happy All Day Long and Sleep Fine."

That's what a woman said just a few months ago. She said more and here it is:

"I wish it lay within my power to persuade every woman sufferer from dyspepsia or indigestion (or whatever they may think their stomach trouble is) to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets one week's fair trial. I am sure that every one of them would thank me from the bottom of her heart.

"I am well and happy for the first time in years and I do not hesitate to give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets all the credit. Follow this advice. Give MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets a week's trial; if they do not benefit, Coover and Shreve will return the cost—50 cents.

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous, I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic was recommended and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which make it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

SEEKS SENTIMENT ABOUT FEDERAL AID FOR ROADS

Senator Jonathan Bourne Has Addressed Letters to Newspapers Throughout the Country.

Senator Jonathan Bourne, chairman of the joint committee of congress on federal aid in the construction of post roads has addressed to newspapers throughout the country the following letter seeking for information as to sentiment among the people on the question of federal aid for roads:

"I am very anxious to obtain for the benefit of the joint committee, an intelligent expression of public opinion on the basic questions involved in the granting of federal aid in road improvement. It occurs to me you might like to co-operate in this matter to the extent of stimulating the public to an expression of their views. If this suggestion strikes you favorably, will you kindly advise me as early as practicable as to public opinion in your section of the country on the following questions:

1. Should the government make appropriations in aid of public roads?

2. On what roads should the first government appropriation, if made, be expended: (a) all roads; (b) post roads (r. f. d. and star routes); (c) main traveled market roads; (d) main highways connecting important cities and towns in state; (e) trunk line, interstate highways connecting state capitals and large cities

3. Should the government appropriation be expended on construction, on maintenance, on general improvement, or on any or all of these, or should the allotment by the government be unconditional, or paid as a reward after local authorities have constructed or maintained a highway in good condition

4. What proportion of cost of construction, improvement, or maintenance should be borne by national government, state, county, road district, and abutting property owners, respectively, or what amounts should be allotted to the states on an unconditional plan, or what amounts per mile should be paid as rewards?

5. Should the federal appropriation be apportioned among the states on basis of population, area, mileage of roads, mileage of rural and star routes, taxable valuation, or a combination of these?

6. Should the supervision of construction or maintenance of government aided roads be by the federal government, the state and local authorities, or jointly

Kindly let me know in what manner you submit these questions to the people of your community, and how soon you can probably report the concensus of opinion.

AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE CHAPEL

The Rev. J. W. Miller addressed the students of Illinois College Thursday morning at the regular chapel hour, taking as his theme the friendships of college life.

"No friendships are more enduring than those formed during one's college days, and no other friendships are fraught with so much influence upon the course after life. A friend fromed on the athletic field like one ormed on the field of battle rarely goes back on one in time of need. I well remember how a companion comes to my rescue in the moment of defeat on baseball field and helped me to change that defeat to victory. The religious element should not be neglected in the formation of friends. A word spoken at the right time by a true friend will often gloom to brightness and help keep one from slighting the things that are divine. You of the senior class who will soon be out battling with world, in casting up accounts with yourself in your quiet moments of introspection, will look back with keenest pleasure upon your college friendships."

ILLINOIS FARMER GRAIN DEALERS WILL GATHER IN JACKSONVILLE

TENTH STATE CONVENTION TO MEET HERE FOR THREE DAYS OF NEXT WEEK

Gov. Dunne and Others of Like Prominence Will Take Part i Program---Will Discuss Themes of Great Interest to Farmers and Land Owners---One Thousand Delegates are Expected---Officers Make Statements.

The tenth annual convention of the Farmers' Grain Dealers' association of Illinois will meet in this city the coming week. The convention will be held for three days, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 19, and the various sessions will be held at the opera house. Headquarters will be maintained at the Pacific hotel. Last year when the convention met at Champaign there were nearly one thousand delegates present and it is expected there will be fully that many and probably more at the gathering here next week for Jacksonville is more accessible than Champaign.

All parts of the state are represented in the membership and delegates from all over the state have signified their intention to be present. Local committees are co-operating with the general committee of arrangements in making preparations and everything possible will be done to make the delegates feel that Jacksonville is a fine convention city. The complete program is printed herewith and shows that a number of notable speakers will be here, including Governor Dunne. Not only the program is printed here but also a roster of the members of the state association and the several statements made by officers relative to the association and the coming convention, priuted in the program booklet.

Among prominent persons to appear on the program will be the following:

Hon. Edward F. Dunne, governor of Illinois; Hon. Charles Adkins, Bement; Hon. M. R. Myers Chicago, editor of the American Co-Operative Journal; Hon. Charles V. Miles, Peoria; Hon. J. D. Phillips, president of Illinois Bankers' association; Hon. O. F. Berry, chairman of the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission; Hon. Frank Hayes, Morris, Ill.; Hon. S. H. Greeley, Chicago; Hon. E. G. Dunn, lately candidate for governor of Iowa.

VALUE OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Time nor space will permit me to say as much regarding the value of our association as ought to be said.

"In unity is strength" has been our motto so long that I sometimes think it has ceased to be regarded as it should be. This last year has proven beyond a doubt that only the combined efforts of our companies through our organization has brought about some matters of vast importance to farmers of Illinois, who make up our companies.

The first of March last year the grading of grain from the standpoint of the pure food and drug act as applied to grain in its natural form came up.

Our secretary and myself in company with other co-operative grain men from other states and varied grain interests made a trip to Washington, D. C., and pleaded our cause before the secretaries of agriculture and commerce and labor and only by our combined efforts did we succeed in getting the ruling exempting grain until further notice. This could not have been accomplished had it not been for the united efforts not only of our own asssociation but that of other states as well. The value to the farmer of this ruling can only meagerly be estimated. Had the ruling not been temporarily set aside the farmers would have been compelled to have taken great risks in the shipping of their grain.

Not long after our annual meeting last year we were informed that the railroads proposed to advance grain rates in Illinois one (1) cent per hundred pounds which would have amounted to in round numbers about one and one-half million dollars to the farmers of our state or in other words would have taken this amount out of the pockets of the Illinois farmers and put it into the pockets of the railroads doing business in Illinois. This case came up for hearing several times during the year and we (the state association) in company with others have succeeded in staying it off for a time at least.

Had not the Farmers' Elevator companies been well organized and had a great following back of us the railroads would have ignored us entirely and posted their schedule and advanced the rate and the farmer would have had the bill to pay. But they have not laid down yet, we have received notice that they propose to advance the rate on the 15th day of March, 1913, but we expect to be on the job and if possible have it set aside. They will at least know before they get through that the co-operative elevators of Illinois have an organization that will have to be reckoned with. In plain words we do not propose to allow the railroads to put this advance into effect. We have had splendid co-operation on the part of other grain interests in this fight and we hope by our united interests to win out.

Through the association we have been able to assist in the organization of new companies to secure for them competent managers, assist in securing sites and railroad switches, better shipping facilities, improving terminal conditions, adjusting claims, etc. In fact I believe if it were not for our association we would not be handling our own grain today but would be paying into the coffers of the old line grain men many thousands, yes millions of dollars.

The association has been endeavoring to have some laws enacted looking toward the betterment of the tiller of the soil. We believe the railroad rate bill which was passed some years ago was a great stride forward and we hope soon to see on our statute books a reciprocal demurrage law.

We expect also to see in the near future federal inspection of our

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

DOES it occur to you, my friends, that woman's labor never ends:—that is, if she's inclined to be a trifle stubborn constantly. Some housewives glory in the thought that battles won must be re-fought.

First Aid to The Housewife

This jingle is for those who try to smile at toil and reason "Why;" who will not let the household cares crush down life's other glad affairs. You'll find, where Mrs. Smith or Brown thus reason, in a certain town, that Gold Dust helps to minimize the number of back-aches and sighs.

The Gold Dust Twins forever toil, with dirt and trouble as a foil. They start each morning, at the top, and only after night-fall stop. Theirs is to DO if NOT to DIE—Theirs is to never question "why?" At kitchen tasks their talents shine; the floors they polish up are fine; in fact, no matter where they go they leave a spotless trail; and so, like sunshine, when the sky is grey they help to drive the clouds away.

Opportunity is Knocking at Your Door

Each grain of Gold Dust also shares in cleaning up the household wares; each mop it touches seals a bond, to make a mop a fairy wand; each brush or cloth holds regal sway in driving dirt's dull care away.

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle Is Womans' Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves is their future status as a grandmother. And she is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and thus destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.

There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised.

This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 132 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort."

grain which I believe will be just and equitable to all concerned.

I notice in one of the grain journals an editorial commenting on a resolution passed by the board of directors of our association at our last meeting in Chicago, which says 'it denotes such a painful ignorance of the first fundamentals in grain marketing that it unwittingly defeats the very purpose for which it was adopted." I am not surprised that the writer looks at it from this standpoint, because I believe him (whoever he may be) to be very closely allied with some of our biterest enemies. Some of them also attend our annual meeting and give us the glad hand of encouragement and when our backs are turned say all manner of evil things against us. But such is life. But some day, some time, I hope all the dark clouds will clear away and we shall know as we are known.

But perhaps I have wandered from my subject, but I just call attention to the foregoing to illustrate how different interests are watching us.

Now for our annual meeting at Jacksonville, Ill., on Feb. 19, 20 and 21, we hope to see every elevator in the state represented as well as all friends of the co-operative movement and thereby learn for themselves the value of our association.

Very truly yours,
F. C. Wallbaum.

Value of the Convention.

In nearly all co-operative projects there are great difficulties to be overcome, and many conditions, which hinder organized action by farmers.

Living in homes, more or less isolated, one from another, and lacking the opportunity of frequent intercourse with other peple, they develop self reliance, rather than the capacity for efficient co-operation. They lack opportunities for comparing their own powers and weaknesses with others. Certain forces are constantly altering the character of the farmer relative to the industrial world and he should equip himself to meet them fairly and squarely.

Years ago the farmer killed his own meat, ground his own grain and in many ways supplied his own requirements; he was practically an independent unit. Now very few have any practical method of supplying themselves with the necessities of life except through others. Because of the advantage that others take of this dependence, the farmer is driven to organization. He does not realize as a class, the difficulties of co-operation, and he his handicapped by his lack of familiarity with other men and the right relationship of things in the business world generally.

If he would succeed in co-operation, he must thoroughly understand the co-operate system.

The annual meetings of the State Association bring together from all over the state men who are studying and practicing co-operation, so that they can and do learn to understand each other; where they are deficient in this knowledge of affairs outside of their own particular branch of industry they find as opportunity to acquire such knowledge and to practice in working with their fellows toward real efficiency is co-operators.

H. W. Danforth.
First Vice-President

The Value of Organization

Organization is the key of success. This fact has been recognized by men in almost every line of business, and they have combined and organized to accomplish th object desired. The merchants have their associations, the manufacturers their trusts and the railroads they combines. Yet the Producer has not awakened to the fact that organization is necessary for his protection.

However, the American farmer is beginning to realize the need of concerted action. It was through the efforts of the Farmers' Grain Dealers' Association that a suspension of the rulings of Dr. Wiley, of the Pure Food and Drug Act, was obtained. Also through the influence of this organization, the proposed increase of one cent per 100 pounds in freight rate on grain, in the state of Illinois was withheld.

When the farmers have become well organized they will be able to secure needed legislation to obtain just treatment in their business and to receive the rcognition in the affairs of government that they merit

Every Home Needs This Fine Remedy

A Mild, Reliable Laxative-Tonic is Something No Family Should Be Without.

No well-regulated home should be without a laxative for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

A laxative then becomes a necessity or what was a trifling congestion at the beginning may run into a serious cold or fever. No harsh remedy is needed, but simply a mild laxative-tonic that will make the liver active and stir up the bowels. People who have tried a great many things, and are themselves heads of families who have seen the little ills run to big ones, will tell you that there is nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Among the great believers in Syrup Pepsin for constipation in old or young, and as a general household emergency remedy, is Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Osawatomie, Kans., who writes after using one sample bottle and two dollar bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin: "On the plea of the duty that every one owes to fellow sufferers, I appeal to all such who are bowed in spirit, broken in health and discouraged with life, not to give up until they have given Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a fair trial." Syrup Pepsin is scientifically compounded and its purity is vouched for. Mothers give it to tiny babies, and grown people, taking a larger amount, find it equally effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant-tasting and free from griping.

MRS. J. W. ANDERSON.

It does not hide behind a high sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredient. Families who once use Syrup Pepsin forever after avoid cathartics, salts, pills and other harsh medicines, for these only do temporary good, are nauseous and a shock to any delicate system. Such things should never be given to children.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Woman's World

Mary L. Read, Founder of Mothercraft School.

MISS MARY L. READ.

The School of Mothercraft, which for over a year has been doing such splendid work in New York, was founded and is directed by Miss Mary L. Read, a college graduate, who has applied her university training to the nursery. Miss Read in her not very long life has been both a kindergartner who recognized in Froebel the mother educator and a social worker who considers skillful mother work the surest path to social progress.

The School of Mothercraft is carrying out the same ideals as Sesame House, in London, which is a training home for ideal childhood and ideal womanhood, with the same vital method of teaching through the home life, the kindergarten and outdoor activities.

The old fashioned idea that any woman of average intelligence was intuitively equipped by nature for motherhood does not hold good with the up to date woman of today who fits herself scientifically for this vocation in the same businesslike manner as for a professional career.

SLEEPING PORCH.

How to Construct This Very Popular Apartment.

The sleeping porch may be a fad, but it looks very much like a fixture, says a writer in a builders' magazine. In some of the suburban communities there are houses specially designed to accommodate sleeping porches, and those who live within are not by any means tubercular.

The simplest method of constructing a real sleeping porch in a new house of modest proportions is to construct a generous dormer in the roof on the sheltered side, leaving it entirely open at the front except to a point about two feet above the floor, to which height it should be boarded up. In this way a room of adequate size is formed without drafts and requiring only a curtain in front to secure privacy.

A good plan is to shingle the roof and sides and to lay a heavy grade of prepared canvas on the floor. This roofing and deck canvas is waterproof, so strong that it may be walked on freely, comes in widths of thirty and thirty-six inches, is lapped an inch and a half when it is put down, and it is fastened with tacks not more than an inch apart.

It is best to give it a coat of paint at once and to keep it painted at intervals throughout the year. Make provision for draining off water, which will surely be driven in when hard storms come.

Couch hammocks seem to belong to sleeping porches and are as convenient and comfortable for an after dinner siesta as for the nightly repose. It is important to have a thick and well made mattress, both for comfort and to keep the cold from penetrating. Little else in the way of furnishings is needed except perhaps a rug on the floor.

The Ante-inaugural Parade.

It is better to be a large frog in a small pond than vice versa, veni-vedivoci, ad lib. Which is to say the suffragists will not march in the inaugural parade on March 4, but will have a parade all by themselves the day before. Dr. Anna Shaw says so, and she knows, because she has just returned from the board meeting of the Woman's National Suffrage association, held at Chicago a week ago. The Washington suffrage organization, of which Miss Florence Ethridge, a charming, brilliant young lawyer, is president, had petitioned the national board to take action on the parade suggestion because they feared to undertake anything so significant themselves. The national board thought it would be a "great opportunity for propaganda," so they told the Washington suffragists to go ahead with arrangements. They appointed Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch to manage the national work for the parade because she has a genius for making them successful. She does not yet know she has been appointed, but that will be all right.

Individualism Defined.

In speaking to the girls at Barnard college, New York city, in chapel a short while ago Dr. McCastline, the newly appointed head of the department of health at Columbia university, said that the cardinal prerequisites for an efficient life are bodily health, a well poised mind and individualism. The last he differentiated from eccentricity by defining it as that quality which makes us not creatures apart, but rather a human piece of the world's picture puzzle—unlike the other pieces, but fitting in perfectly with the rest.

We want to thank you for the patronage given us. Our total of business for the year is $74,482.29. Think what that means for Morgan county. In our list of new resolutions let us determine to be a booster instead of a knocker for a home enterprize for the year to come.

NOTICE

To Farmers and Stock Raisers

We are now manufacturing under State License, the best Brand of hog food on market known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" It is far superior to any Brand of Hog food on the market to day. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47,673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

Crude Fat.....10.00 to 14 per cent
Crude Protein..52.50 to 60 per cent
Crude Fibre.....1.00 to 3 per cent
Phosphate.....10.00 to 12 per cent

What Is "Sure Fatten Hog Food"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuff, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations.

It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above.

It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food" Tankage Does.

It developes bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby, saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows beter proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy hogs.

SELLING MOVEMENTS GAINS IN STRENGTH

ALMOST ALL STOCKS TRADED IN WERE FORCED DOWNWARD.

Decline Embraced Speculative Leaders and Standard Investment Stocks—There Was no Market For Stocks of Any Description Except at a Concession.

(By Associated Press)

New York, Feb. 13.—Almost every stock traded in today was forced downward. The selling movement of the last few days gained in strength and for a time in the forenoon the market was feverish and badly upset. A significant feature of the decline was its comprehensive character. It embraced not only the speculative leaders but standard investment stocks and many obscure issues and it was virtually impossible to find a market for stocks of any description except at a concession.

Among the more prominent mediums, Reading was pressed three points, Union Pacific nearly as much, Smelting two and steel, Amalgamated and Southern Pacific 1¾, the latter stock touching 100¾, a new low point since 1908. Such investment stocks as New York Central, Great Northern preferred and Atchison, which usually offer staunch resistance to the fluctuation of the moment were lowered materially. An unusually large proportion of inactive stocks was included in the days decline and their losses ran up in some cases to five points or more. Short covering in the afternoon reduced the losses considerably. The movement was expressive of Wall street's present bearish attitude. Sentiment has not been cheerful for some time and, in view of the coming tariff revision and change in administration, traders have felt that there was little activity on the long side of the market. When traders returned to the street today after the holiday and found a budget of bearish news, it required nothing more to bring on an active selling movement. The likelihood of a strike of firemen on the eastern railroads, apprehensions as to possible complications arising from the Mexican revolution and the less favorable condition of the money market figured prominently as bear factors.

Money rates held firm. Arrangements were made to export $1,000,000 more gold to South America.

RHEUMA
DRIVES OUT
RHEUMATISM

After 25 Years of Misery, This Man Walks, Works and Feels Fine Again

Right away—the first day you start to take RHEUMA—the Uric Acid poison begins to dissolve and leave the sore joints and muscles. Its action is little less than magical.

RHEUMA works so speedily you actually can feel the Rheumatism leaving the body. A bottle costs but 50 cents, and if you are not satisfied Coover & Shreve will return your money. Read this:

"I wish to state to you the facts and nothing but the facts. I bless the day a friend brought me a 50-cent bottle of RHEUMA. I used one-half of it and it did me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried. I had been afflicted with Rheumatism all over my body for more than 25 years; I could not walk, and was a broken-down man. During that time I spent a small fortune trying to be rid of the horrible disease, but without help. However, RHEUMA reached my case, and I thank God I can again use my feet and do my work.

"Before taking your medicine I was staying with a daughter on her farm, and despite her loving efforts to tempt my appetite I could not eat. After I had taken RHEUMA two days my appetite returned. Your for prosperity."—Prof. H. H. Kolling, 7 S. Ninth St., Richmond, Ind., Oct. 10, 1912.

GRAIN PRICES MAKE BIG DROP

OVERLOADED CONDITION OF WHEAT MARKET IS PRINCIPAL CAUSE.

Flour Mills Are Said to be Running at Full Capacity But Have Failed to Find Ready Buyers—Corn Weakened by Big Receipts.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Cuts in the price of flour acted as the last straw today in breaking the cost of wheat. The grain though steady at the close ranged from ⅝ to 1¼c down. Corn finished 1⅛ to 1¼@1⅜c off, oats lower ½ to ⅝@¾c and provisions less expensive by 15 to 45@47½cc.

Evidence of the overloaded condition of the flour trade formed the principal cause of drop of 4½ in No. 2 red wheat at Toledo. For a similar reason cash wheat elsewhere too headed down grade although not to such a decided extent. The mills were said to have been turning out flour at their full capacity, but had failed to find buyers of late. Wheat here sagged from the start and closed at nearly the lowest figures of the day.

Notwithstanding generous export business at the seaboard, corn turned weak chiefly because of big receipts. Argentine crop estimates were enlarged and renewed attention was given to the domestic shortage of cattle and hogs. Sellers of oats were usually aggressive. There was a prospect that farm reserves March 1 would make a remarkable showing against the bulls.

Provisions suffered a sharp setback in consequence of large sales by longs. Heavy holdings of pork, lard and ribs tumbled simultaneously into the pit and found no adequate support.

MILITIA AND POLICE KEPT BUSY ARRESTING STRIKING COAL MINERS

Miners Invade State Capitol at Charleston and Riot Call is Sent in Bringing the Entire Police Force of the City.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 12.—A series of important developments marked the coal strike situation today. In the coal fields under martial law, 25 miles from here the militia was using stringent measures to stamp out violence, while in this city it became necessary to sound a riot call to curb a demonstration started in the state building.

A legislature, troubled because of charges of bribery, was in session when it was learned that miners and their sympathizers were marching here to take the state capitol. There was some doubt of the truth of the report, but when a number of miners and others invaded the state building a riot call was turned in. Chief of Police Guill with the entire police force at his heels rushed to the state house. The halls of the capitol were cleared, a number of persons receiving slicht injuries.

The legislature, however, was not disturbed and continued its deliberations. The mine of Holley Grove, on Paint Creek was raided today and 69 men arrested. Under military escort the men were rushed to Paint Creek Junction for trial before the military authorities, charged with participating in recent rioting. Although wire service from the troubled zone was partially established today only meager details of the fierce mine riots in the strike districts several days ago have been recived here. It is now reported that the death list instead of being 16, was 26. Two of the dead were guards and the others miners according to the report.

RETIRES ON AGE LIMIT.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Rear Admiral Joseph B. Murdock, a conspicuous figure in the navy, was placed on the retired list today on account of age. His active career covers a period of nearly forty-five years, during which time he has held a wide variety of important commands, both at sea and on shore.

Admiral Murdock is a native of Hartford, Conn., and a graduate of the United States naval academy in the class of 1870. The first few years of his service in the navy were spent on the north and south Atlantic stations. From 1875 to 1880 he was on coast survey duty and during the three years that followed he was instructor in physics at the Annapolis academy. After serving periods of several years each on the Asiatic and European stations and at the New York navy yard and the naval war college, he was made executive officer of the warship Panther at the beginning of the war with Spain.

He commanded the Rhode Island on the famous around-the-world cruise of the American battleship fleet in 1908. At the conclusion of the cruise he was promoted to the rank of rear admiral and assigned to the command of the New York navy yard. In 1910 he became commander of the second division of the Atlantic fleet. A year later he was made commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, of which command he was relieved a short time ago in anticipation of his retirement from active service.

NEW HEAD OF SIGNAL CORPS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—After having served at the head of the United States army signal corps for seven years, Brigadier General James Allen relinquished his duties at noon today to his successor in office, Colonel George P. Scriven, who has been acting as his chief assistant for some time past. The change is due to the fact that General Allen became 64 years of age today, and, therefore, under the law was relegated to the retired list.

Colonel Scriven, who succeeds General Allen as chief signal officer was born in Pennsylvania in 1854. Upon his graduation from the West Point military academy in 1878 he was assigned as a second lieutenant to the eighth infantry. A year later he was transferred to the third artillery. In 1890 he was appointed a first lieutenant in the signal corps. A year ago he attained the rank of colonel in the signal corps and was the only officer of that rank in the organization. During the Boxer uprising in China, in 1900, Colonel Scriven served as chief signal officer of the relief expedition, and was recommended for the brevet of lieutenant colonel for gallant conduct at Yangtsun and also at Peking.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT FACES CRISIS

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 13.—With the usual ceremonies the session of the provincial legislature was opened this afternoon. The session bids fair to be one of the most important in the history of Alberta. Only a few weeks ago the forecast was for a short and comparatively uninteresting session, but since then a momentous change has been wrought in the political situation by the privy council's decision in the suit of the Royal Bank against the province of Alberta.

When Premier Sifton came into power he obtained the passing of an act by the provincial legislature, declaring that the proceeds of the bonds of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway belonged to the general fund of the province. The Great Waterways railway and the Royal bank, which held the money, immediately claimed that the measure was ultra vires, and payment was denied. The Alberta government then sued to recover. The judgment just rendered by the privy council in favor of the Royal bank means an enormous monetary loss to the province and a corresponding increase in the public debt. The decision has dealt a hard blow to the Sifton government, which came into power as a result of a split which the Alberta Great Waterways railway had caused in the previous government. It is freely predicted that a general election is likely to follow soon after the adjournment of the present session of the legislature.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for commissioner of Road District No. 6th at election March 4th.

Herman Burmeister.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

Nearly $1,000,000 is now in deposit in school savings banks in 1,449 schools throughout the United States

Illiteracy is practically banished in Prussia. Out of 165,841 army recruits in 1911, all but 24 could read and write.

The government of Uruguay has engaged an agricultural expert from the United States to organize an agricurtural school in the republic.

The Monessori method is to be tried by the normal schools of Ontario, Canada, following investigations of Montessori schools in the United States.

Lima, Peru, will be the meeting place of two important gatherings this summer—the sixth Pan-American congress and the fifth Latin-American Medical congress.

Three faculty representatives of the University of La Plata, Argentina, have been investigating educational methods in the United States. They are concerned chiefly with history, biology and the rural school problem.

A first year course in vocational guidance is offered in the high school at Highland Park, Ill. The purpose of the course is to aid students in selecting the subjects of the next three years with special reference to their life work.

Indiana boys failed in school more frequently than girls, according to a recent investigation of 14 Indiana cities by Superintendent Arthur Deamer of Laporte. The percentage of failures was 14.6 for the boys and 10.4 for the girls.

The extent of the reindeer industry in Alaska under the United States bureau of education is indicated by the fact that is covers a territory as long as from Maine to South Carolina. If a line were drawn through the 54 herds it would stretch more than 5,000 miles. There are over 38,000 reindeer in these herds, two-thirds of them owned by natives. The value of the reindeer owned by the natives is estimated at $600,000 and from them during the past year was derived an income of $25,000 in addition to meat and hides consumed by the natives themselves.

Law Schools.

The actual number of law schools in the United States only increased from 102 to 118 in the decade from 1902 to 1912, according to figures compiled at the United States bureau of education, but the number of students studying law in these schools increased from 13,912 to 20,760 in the same period. There were 3,524 graduates of law schools in 1902 and 4,394 last year. Law students, having a collegiate degree doubled in ten years.

Financially the law schools show a remarkable advance. The endowment funds jumped from half a million to nearly two million dollars; the grounds and buildings tripled in value; and the total income in 1912 was $1,368,000, as against $523,000 in 1902. The 387,000 volumes in the law school libraries of 1902 had grown to 926,000 in 1912.

TALES OF CATS.

Stories That Come From the Historic Tower of London.

Two stories of the intelligence and sympathy of our feline friends were told me during one of my numerous visits to the Tower of London while I was living in England.

Southampton was a prisoner in the Tower with the Earl of Essex during Elizabeth's reign. In some strange way or by some unrecognized faculty a favorite cat of his found his abode and suddenly appeared to him, having made an entrance down the chimney. After his release by James I., Southampton had his picture painted with his faithful friend at his side. The portrait, I believe, can today be seen at Wilbeck abbey.

The other tale is of Sir Henry Wyatt, who was committed to the Tower during the reign of Richard III. and suffered much from want of clothing and food. He would have perished if a cat had not come down into his room and warmed him by lying on his breast and saved him from starvation by bringing him an occasional pigeon caught on the leads. Although the keeper was under orders not to improve his food, he agreed to cook anything which Sir Henry provided, and the pigeons which the cat brought saved his life. He also had a picture painted showing the cat offering a pigeon through the bars of his cell.—Our Dumb Friends.

MOCK WINDOWS.

They Were Common In England When Real Ones Were Taxed.

The window tax in England, a very old tax commencing in the reign of William III., was not discontinued until Lord Halifax changed it to the house duty in 1851.

It must have caused a great amount of consumption, anaemia and other foul air maladies, for in 1850 there were only an average of six windows in English houses. Indeed, the British architects are not yet free from the bad influence of this tax.

In very many old houses in England today there may be seen mock windows painted on the walls for symmetry—hideous things. Not only were glazed windows taxed, but any hole in the wall was included. Indeed, in the early days only very rich people in England had glass windows, and so precious were these that they were carried from one house to another when people moved their quarters.

Curious dodges were practiced to escape the tax, such as extending one window across two houses or making a very wide division between two panes of glass. The loss to the nation must have been a hundredfold the revenues collected from this bad tax.—Boston Herald.

The Word "Set."

What is the favorite word of the English language? The Germans have their "schlag" and "zug," which cover many meanings. But we beat them in the one word—not "post"—which you might suspect of the supremacy of ambiguity—but "set." One always thought that "post" was the word that meant all things and nothing. The punster should watch the word "set," which has achieved nearly seventy columns in the new English dictionary. It is a small word, but its meanings are almost unlimited. You should set to work on the word, which you use every day in a hundred senses. And it would be a pleasant, popular game to set down the number of ways in which you have used that word during the day. "Set to partners" you might call it.—London Chronicle.

Hard Questions.

Oh, tell me, does the setting sun e'r feel a sinking pain? Why is (inform a "Puzzled One") a weathercock so vane? Do stars require a gun to shoot? What makes a bucket pail? What tailor makes the chimney's soot? Who writes the comet's tail?

And why are dogs so lovable, however much they whine? Pray tell me, Mr. Editor, what makes the fir tree pine?

Why is a vessel's hind part stern? Who sings an old hen's lay? Please tell me, for I'd like to know, who wears the close of day?—London Answers.

The Greek Figure.

Greek figures of men appear taller and more graceful than those of moderns. Modern artists make the upright figure seven and one-half times the length of the head. The Greeks made it eight times, lengthening the shin, and the longer sweep from knee to heel gave the figure increased grace and dignity. The same plan was frequently adopted by Lord Leighton, in whose paintings the same effect is obtained.

His Method.

"I always did make a hit with the women," bragged Henry VIII.

"With your wit, sire?" murmured the obsequious courtier.

"No," answered the monarch, with a sly smile, "with an ax."—Baltimore American.

"He yelled 'Hold on, hold on! We ain't married yet!'"—Houston Post.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE STARS"—NO. 6.

For years The Tribune has declined annually $200,000 or more which it could have if it would print patent medicine and disreputable medical advertising. This was a matter of conscience—a dislike for dirty dollars. Duty pointed out the fact that it was not only right to stop people from spending money for nostrums generally useless and oftentimes dangerous, but it was essential that we do what we could to keep them in health. So we engaged Dr. Evans, formerly Health Commissioner of the City of Chicago, and President of the American Medical Association, to act as Health Editor. He does not prescribe but daily he talks on the text "How to Keep Well." This was an innovation which has been followed by several metropolitan papers and today the medical papers of the country are crusading for "Medical Editors" in daily newspapers.

Among the many different features appearing in the eight big sections of The Chicago Sunday Tribune of February 16 will be one entitled showing how many parents make profit from their beautiful children. A revelation to most people.

Babies That Support Families

Every issue of The Chicago Sunday Tribune proves that it stands supreme and alone at the top of the world's Sunday newspapers. Twenty world-famed star writers and artists are found in every issue and its list of special feature writers is not and can not be duplicated by any other Sunday paper.

Grip Not Dangerous When Properly Treated

Symptoms: Headache---Fever---Watery Eyes

Grip, which is very similar to a severe cold, attended by a high fever, requires careful treatment. Unless care is taken, pneumonia often follows. The patient should avoid exposure. Take a double dose of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to begin with, and then a regular dose each hour. Keep the bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. Before retiring, bathe the feet in water as hot as can be comfortably borne. After the fever subsides, take quinine in two or three grain doses, four times a day, for several days.

By taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the very first symptom of grip, it will counteract any tendency of this disease to result in pneumonia.

CHICAGO MAY HAVE UNIFIED CITY TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

Subways and Universal Transfer Are Among the Benefits Guaranteed in New System.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Surface and elevated railroads in Chicago delivered to the local transportation committee of the city council today an ultimatum in accordance with which they will consent to create a unified metropolitan transportation system.

Subways in substitution for the antiquated loop, additional underground roads in more outlying sections on demand of the city council and universal transfers are among the public benefits guaranteed by the traction interests. In return the companies demand seven per cent on the legal value of their property which totals $214,000,000.

The city would get seventy per cent net beyond the seven per cent provided that percentage brings $2,000,000 or more. The traction companies 30 per cent will be cut down should the city's share be below $2,000,000 until either the city gets that sum or gets the entire profit.

In accordance with the proposition presented today the valuation of the lines would assure the companies a net profit of $15,000,000 a year before any sharing with the city would begin.
